Braided ribbons

6 partners invite
15 designers on a 10 days
24/7 summercamp to make, eat, play, learn and meet in the Timelab jungle.

We use them every day. Braided ribbons, like ropes or shoelaces or the string of your hoodie, are the most ordinary objects. However, they have multiple associations, meanings, and functions. These objects collect historical, cultural, technical, social and systemic layers that make braided ribbon the inspiration for our Fiber Fever Summercamp 2023.

15 participants with different backgrounds will focus on engineering, techniques, patterns, colours, movement/ meaning and circular materials. They work in mixed groups on the multiple aspects of the braiding as elements of one collective outcome in the end.

Final presentation August 30

They present their work to each other, their network, neighbours and friends at the end presentation and celebration on Wednesday August, 30 at 6 PM.

Practical note for participants

We gather every day from 9 until as long as it takes. The crew and teachers support the working groups and meet daily at 11 to check in on the collective process. All participants commit to a daily meeting at 12, just before lunch.

Visitors are welcome to meet us for lunch and/or contribute to the process.

- The selection is done by the 6 partners: send your cv to team@timelab.org before June 15.
- We cover accommodation and food + a common budget for materials.
- Come and stay for the entire week.
- Bring your mattress and sleeping bag, because we will be camping!
- Location: Kogelstraat 34, 9000 Ghent, easily accessible by public transport.
